CU 20-065 EInvitation to Saab's Annual Sensor Seminar:
Staying ahead of future threats, from space to surface.

Saab is pleased to invite media, financial analysts and investors as well as other stakeholders to our annual Sensor Seminar, on 10th November 2020, 14:00 CET.

The Sensor Seminar 2020 will be hosted by Anders Carp, Head of Saab business area Surveillance and Deputy CEO of Saab.

Today's armed forces must prepare for tomorrow's demanding missions, with an increasing threat from artillery, missile and rocket systems. These threats must be detected and counteraction must be taken. The Saab Sensor Seminar will provide a briefing on our sensor systems that are designed to meet this challenge in multi-domain operations. The Saab Sensor Seminar will also provide a market outlook for sensors worldwide.

Speakers:

- Anders Carp, Head of Saab business area Surveillance, Deputy CEO of Saab
- Rickard Stridh, Colonel and Chief Scientist, Swedish Armed Forces
- Henrik Ekebring, Director Business Development and Strategy Combat Air Surveillance, Saab
- Heléne Bittmann, Vice President Head of Global Marketing and Sales Business Unit Electronic Warfare Systems, Saab

Question and answer session

Moderator: Charlotte Nilsson, Media Relations Manager, Saab

Time: Wednesday, 10 November 2020 at 14:00 CET

The seminar will be live-streamed via: https://saab-seminar.creo.se/201110/saab_annual_sensor_seminar_2020

It will be possible to post questions via the live-stream or Twitter using #SensorSeminar

The seminar will be conducted in English. All presentations, including picture, films and the webcast will be available after the broadcast at the Saab webpage, saab.com.
