Saab signs mortar munitions licensing agreement for production in Poland

Saab has today signed a licensing agreement with Dezamet, a part of the Polish PGZ Group, on production and sales of MAPAM mortar munitions in Poland.

The agreement marks the delivery of the first industrial cooperation and technology transfer commitment for Poland related to the Orka submarine programme signed with the Polish State Treasury Armaments Agency earlier this year.

“We are pleased to see our collaboration with Dezamet progressing well and now look forward to securing orders that will allow us to take this programme to the next stage,” says Claudio Penna, Managing Director of Saab Switzerland.

The licensing agreement is a fulfilment of the first commitment within an agreement between Saab and the Polish Ministry of Economic Development and Technology on the industrial cooperation and investment package related to the ORKA submarine programme.

MAPAM is a high-performance mortar munition, developed by Saab Bofors Dynamics Switzerland It offers significantly increased effectiveness compared to conventional rounds. Through this technology transfer, Saab is bringing advanced expertise to Poland’s defence industry, supporting local production and long-term industrial capability development.
